

The Institutes of Gaius: adventures of a bestseller

Transmission, use and transformation of the text

Collegium of Roman Law - January 2016

The Center for Studies and Research on Ancient Law CEDANT of the University of Pavia is committed to the encouragement of advanced education and research in the field of Roman and Ancient law. Founded in 2002 thanks to the support of the Institute for Advanced Study of Pavia (IUSS), in 2015 CEDANT became a Research Center within the Department of Law of the University of Pavia, in partnership with Almo Collegio Borromeo.

CEDANT avails itself of an international Scholarly Advisory Board and carries out its activities by virtue of the collaboration it enjoys with specialists who are selected as appropriate according to the theme under study, and with respect for the broadest participation of the scholarly community and for the wide range of different methodologies.

For the academic year 2015-2016, CEDANT is organizing the thirteenth «Collegium of Roman Law», an intensive residential course of study. The formula of the «Collegium» consists in bringing together, for three weeks in January 2016 at Collegio Borromeo of Pavia, professors from Italian and foreign universities and, in the capacity of auditors, young scholars interested in the proposed theme. The professors will engage in a series of seminars - in Italian and in English - characterised by strong educational organic unity and coherence, and which also represent an opportunity for scholarly exchange and discussion. At the same time, each participant is invited to contribute actively to the development and pursuit of the research undertaken. A second phase, lasting one week in the month of September 2016, is designed to allow the professors and the young scholars, who have actively contributed to the research, to critique the findings, with the aim of joint publication in a volume to be published by Pavia University Press.

The scholarly theme of the «Collegium» 2016 falls within the project "Redhis – Rediscovering the hidden structure. A new appreciation of juristic texts and patterns of thought in Late Antiquity" (ERC advanced grant 2013, P.I. Dario Mantovani, host University: Università di Pavia).
