

III FINO/SIFA GRADUATE CONFERENCE IN MIND, LANGUAGE AND SCIENCE

New Trends in Epistemology

Pavia, June 12-13, 2017 (Aula Volta del Palazzo Centrale, Corso di Strada Nuova, 65)

June 12

- 9-10 Registration
10-10:15 Introduction
- 10.15-11:45 Keynote Speech by Alessandra Tanesini
Intellectual arrogance and vanity in debate: some epistemic harms
- 12-12:45 Giacomo Melis (University of Stirling)
In defense of enkratic principles
- 12:45-13:30 Lewis Ross (University of St. Andrews)
Rethinking Curiosity
- 15-15:45 Jaakko Hirvelä (University of Helsinki)
From Virtue to Safety not this way
- 15:45-16:30 Elena Tassoni (University of Bologna)
Logical Pluralism, Deductive Justification and transmission
- 16:45-17:30 Simon Wimmer (University of Warwick)
Knowing and believing
- 17:30-18:15 Claire Field (University of St. Andrews)
Are moral and epistemic normative ignorance symmetric?

June 13

- 9.30-11:00 Keynote Speech by Christoph Kelp
Inquiry and the Transmission of Knowledge
- 11.15-12:00 Giada Fratantonio (University of Edinburgh)
Troubles for Epistemological Disjunctivism
- 12:00-12:45 Samuel Dishaw (Harvard University)
The epistemic significance of grasping
- 12.45-13.30 Rie Iizuka (University of Edinburgh)
Virtue Epistemology, Self-Cultivation and its underlying concept of self
- 15-15:45 Federica Malfatti (University of Innsbruck) & Johannes Findl (Barcelona)
Testimony as a Source of Understanding
- 15:45-16:30 Michel Croce (University of Edinburgh)
Epistemic Paternalism
- 17-17:45 Francesco Praolini (University of Leuven)
What is our Epistemic Goal?
- 17:45-18:30 Liz Jackson (Notre Dame University)
Belief and credence. Why the attitude-type matters